

Different ways to promote health competences

Objective in Finnish competence development is to create coaching culture open for effective learning in every day life. It means educations taken into coaches surroundings and using various methods. Main goal is to develop coaches learning skills. It is also important to include colleagues and other club actors to the process for enriching the co-operation. Active sharing with other coaches and open access to educational materials is one part of the continuous competence development. Learning can be formal, in-formal or non-formal and can happen in many surroundings.

Different ways to promote health competences

